

Mudita

Sanne Rambags; vocals

Koen Smits; trumpet

Sjoerd van Eijck; piano

These three young musicians found each other in the music they wanted to make. In this unusual ensemble singer Sanne Rambags, pianist Sjoerd van Eijck and trumpet player Koen Smits show a different approach to the sounds of their instruments. Silence and intimacy are important elements of their music. The repertoire consists of their own compositions which are voiced and influenced by poetry and atmospheric improvisations and entirely based on sounds.

Several musicians have inspired this trio, such as Susanne Abbuehl, Simin Tander, Jan Garbarek, Mathias Eick and Tord Gustavsen. Free improvisation, openness, silence, sincerity, and intention are aspects that play an important part in their music. Every performance is approached differently allowing an ever-new experience where the audience is taken on a journey to another world. One aspect remains unaltered in their performances: the magic that happens in their music.
